Re: Assignment of Copyright

The author (s) hereby grant(s) permission for the International Academy of Business and Public Administration Disciplines (IABPAD) to copyright and publish my (our) manuscript entitled “-----
-----”. The author(s) of this paper assign(s) to the IABPAD all copyright in the paper, including the right to publish, republish, sell, transmit, and distribute the paper and its contained material in all media of expression, and to license, sublicense, or permit others to do so.

If this contribution (paper) is owned by the employer (for instance, was written as a work- made-for- hire during the course of the author(s) employment), then the employer must also sign this copyright agreement. In this case the employer assigns the same copyright agreement as specified above.

The author(s) warrant(s) that:

1. The paper contains only original work and that no part of the manuscript has been previously copyrighted.
2. The paper is submitted only to this Journal, has not been published before, is not being considered for publication elsewhere, has not been accepted for publication, and is not copyrighted.
3. The paper does not infringe on the right or privacy of others, does not contain material or instructions that might cause harm or injury, and does not contain libelous or unlawful statements.
4. Author(s) and employer (if employer is included) indemnify and hold harmless the IABPAD (and its officers, members, and partners) from and against any and all liability, damage, loss or expense arising from any claim, demand, action or proceeding arising from or based upon the breach or alleged breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in this Copyright Agreement.

The author(s) retain the right to use the material in the paper for oral presentations, for the author(s) own teaching, research and scholarly activities, to include the paper in a compilation for classroom use by students, but not to be used for commercial sale or for external distribution by a third party.

Check box below if applicable.

I, one of multiple co-authors of the paper, confirm I have the consent of my co-authors to sign on their behalf.
